THE CROP OUTLOOK.

A General Lack of Rain Throughout the Country Is Reported. The following is the weekly weather crop bulletin, issued by the Signal Office;

The week has been slightly cooler than usual in the Southern, Middle, Atlantis, and New England States. In the Northwest including the States of the Missouri and Upper Mississippi Valleys and the Upper Lake region, the week was unusually warm, the daily temperature from Lake Michigan westward to the Missouri Valley ranging from 6 to 9 degrees above the normal. There has been much less rain than usual throughout the country. Very light local rains were reported from the Upper Lake region and the Northwest, but no rain occurred in the States of the Ohio Valley, Illinois, Eastern Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, West Tennessee, Northern Alabama and Mississippi. The weather during the week was unusually warm and dry throughout the corn belt and the extreme Northwest, causing corn to mature rapidly, but the crop is much in need of rain in some localities. Hot winds and drought have caused some damage to crops in Dakota, Illinois, and Missouri. Early corn in the central valleys was much improved by the bot, dry weather. The absence of rain bulletin, issued by the Signal Office: trai valleys was much improved by the hot, dry weather. The absence of rain has affected grass, fruit, and tobacco unfavorably in the Ohio Valley, while showers in Tennessee have improved the tobacco crop. Reports from Texas indicate that the weather for the week was very favorable for cotten and the country to the content of the cont ton and the crop is being secured rapidly. In Arkansas, Louisiaua, and Mississippi the cot-ton crop was much improved by favorable weather, but more rain is needed, especially for cane in Louisiana. Considerable damage has been caused by boll worms in Arkansas and Mississippi. In South Carolina and Tennessee the weather was unfavorable for cotton, while in Alabama the crop was improved and is reported in good condition. In the Middle Atlantic States, in good condition. In the Middle Atlantic States, including New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New York, the weather was favorable, causing corn to mature rapidly, with prospects of a large crop. Potatoes were improved in New York, but need more rain, while in Pennsylvania and New England the potato rot continues, with a prospect of a short crop of inferior quality. In New England the weather was cool, but an average crop of corn is ripening rapidly. The fruit crops in this section are generally in good condition, but the yield of apples will be light. A tobacco crop and a large apples will be light. A tobacco crop and a large second crop of grass have been secured. Reports from the Pacific coast indicate that recent rains have been beneficial to the root crops in Oregon, and the Forest fires reported have

WHIRLED OVER NIAGARA FALLS. Another Foolhardy but Successful Attempt Made by Carlisle D. Graham.

Carlisle D. Graham, the Philadelphia cooper, who a week previous made a successful trip through the whirlpool rapids at Niagara Falls, has passed over the falls in safety, using the same barrel he did at the first attempt. The barrel was towed out into the river by Andy Horne and Garret Stelliop and let go at a point opposite Chippewa Creek. Down the current it swept, plunging over reefs, often out of sight, till it approached the brink and dropped 200 feet into the abyss below. The barrel soon rose lutact and was descried in an eddy. Elmer Jones swam out from the Canadian shore, eaught hold of a rope fastened to the barrel, and towed it in sho e, where Graham was lifted out by Jones and Cahill. He complained of terrible pains in the back and head from the racking he had received, and could talk but incoherently. The entire trip occupied

JUSTICE FIELD GOES FREE. The Case Against Him Is Dismissed Justice Sawyer Scores Sarah Atthea. At San Francisco, Cal., the United States Circuit Court having been officially informed that the charge of murder against Justice Stephen J. Field had been discussed by the Stockton court. Judge Sawyer accordingly dismissed the habeas corpus A SUMMARY OF THE EVENTFUL HAPproceedings in the case of Justice Field and said:

and said:

We are glad that the presention of Mr. Justice Field has been dismissed, founded as it was upon the sole, reckless, and, as to him, manifestly false affiliavit of one whose relation to the matters leading to the tragedy, and whose animosity toward the courts and judges who have found it their duty to decide against her, and especially against Mr. Justice Field, is part of the judicial and notorious public history of the country. It was so far as Mr. Justice Field is concerned, a shameless proceeding, and, as intimated by the Governor of the commonwealth, would have been a lasting disgrace to the State. Officers of the law should certainly have taken some little pains to ascertain the facts before proceeding to arrest so distinguished a dignitary and to attempt to incarcerate him in prison with felons, or to put him in a position to be further degraded and perhaps assaulted by one so violent as to be publicly r-ported, not only then but on numerous previous occasions, to have threatened his life.

The case of Deputy Marshal Nagle was also taken up in the Circuit Court and Judge Sawyer announced that a time would be set for taking testimony and arguing the law points in regard to the jurisdiction of the Federal Court.

BUSINESS IS BOOMING.

An Improvement in All Branches Noted by the Commerc at Agencies.

Bradstreet's State of Trade says: Telegrams indicate a very generally increased netivity in general trade at almost all the leading commercial and industrial centers, excepting a few of the larger ones on the Atlantic coast. The prominent Western cattle markets are dull and prices lower. Australia and South America continus heavy. Crop reports generally remain favorable, and without serious frests for main favorable, and without serious frosts for a fortnight the Indiau corn crop promises to be the heaviest on record. There has been more activity in the domestic grain markets. Flour has sold more freely for home use and export at full prices. The Vienna congress estimate of 15 per cent, deficiency in European crops advanced wheat prices here two cents per bushel.

vanoid which prices here two cents per bushel. This was lost later, but wheat retails an advance of the cent on the week. Corn is $4,00% cent lower this week on the heavy movement at the West, Oats, too, are $4,000 to lost and in active demand. Exports of wheat and four as wheat, both coasts, equal 5,000,000 bushels, against 2,703,445 bushels the previous week and 2,005,711 bushels in the closing week of August, 1888. Exports since July I equal 17,041,030 bushels this year, against 18,070,311 bushels in 1888. The demand for crude and finished from and steel centimes against 18,56,31 busies in 1ess. The demand for crude and finished from and steel continues quite active, although many of the larger consupers have fair stocks. Unde tends higher at the West. Business failures reported number 176 in the United States against 218 the previous week and 136 the corresponding week last year. Total of failures in the United States from Jan. 1 to date is 7,663, against 6,721 in 1888.

JIM HILL TO RESIGN.

The President of the Manitoba Road Will Retire.

James J. Hill, the railroad king of the Northwest, will, it is said, resign the Presi-Manitoba Road at the annual meeting to be held Sept. 12. Rumors of the proposed, or, to be more explicit, forced, retirement of President Hill have been current in St. Paul for several months, and are now confirmed by one who has the confidence of the magnate. The Manitoba Road has been losing money for some time, while its expenses have been enormously increased by President Hill's recklessness in building extensions and absorbing feeders. Mr. Hill's friends aver that he will resign with no regret, but will devote his time in future onists to Mexico to people lands, the negro to travel and a general supervision of his vast interests.

CAMPMENT.

Dense Clouds of Smale Quickly Veil the Batteries and the Realistic Darkness of Actual Warfare Hides the View - Commissioner Tanner's Policy Discussed.

At Milwaukee, more than 150,000 people sat in the biggest amphitheater in the world Thursday night and saw a fine display of fireworks. occasion was the great naval battle which had been so extensively advertised. As a representation of a naval engagement it was rather weak, but as a fire-works exhibition it was first-class. In arranging for the battle the managers forgot one very important factor and that was the braditional "smoke of battle." It was a still, sultry night, and after the first big guns of the shore batteries had been going five minutes the immense crowd was enveloped in smoke, while a dense cloud hung over the bay. After that it was like looking at a fourth of July fireworks exhibition through smoked glass. But the big guns boomed, the musketry rattled, and the fireworks fizzed until all the ammunition was exhausted. The beginning of the battle was a brilliant spectacle. Red lights burned for two miles down the shores of the bay and illuminated everything for a long distance out into the lake. The water was calm and on its placid bosom were several hundred crafts of all sizes and designs. All were illuminated by red fire, and all at a signal discharged rockets. Then the shore batteries opened fire and the flashing of the cannon, their dull roar, and the blazing rockets were impressive and inspiring. But it only lasted a few minutes. Then the big cloud of smoke smothered the enthusiasm and shut off the view. No one knew where the vessels were or what they were doing. The burning of the big three-masted vessel was not an impressive spectacle. It was anchored so far out that it looked about the size of a beer keg. The blowing up of the other vessel was also a dreary fizzle. It was anchored off Grand Haven and when it blew up there was only a splutter, a tiny cloud of smoke, and a report like the crackle in a telephone. The crowd, however, was a grand one, and a larger one has probably never before been seated in the West. It was a very orderly multitude and no casualties are reported,

On the United States ship Fersinden a premature discharge of one of the cannons injured two men. Charles Mattescheck and John Schultz, sailors, were wounded about the body and head. Both are at the Emergency hospital, and Schultz may not recover. Two gunners on the mortar boats were also injured by the explosion of a mortar. Their wounds are in the legs and they will recover. They were also taken to the Emergency hospital.

A little row was caused in the encampment proceedings over the proposition to indorse the "Ladies of the Grand army of the Republic." The opposition declared that the Grand Army wants no more auxillary organizations and said the "Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republie" ought to join the Woman's Relief corps if they want to help the old soldiers and the order. Finally the resolution was amended to read: "Bid the Woman's Relie! corps godspeed in its work."

The project to indorse the administration of the pension bureau by Corporal Tanner povoked the next fight, and for a long time the encampment wrangled over the wording of the resolution. Mr. Perkins of Kansas introduced a resolution heartily thanking the administration of President Harrison for the honor it had conferred on the Grand Army in appointing Corporal Tanner as pension commissioner, and heartily indorsing his conduct of the bureau, because it was erec ed for the benefit of the soldiers and sailors of the late and denouncing the 'bitter and malignant" criticism of the press upon his official conduct. Gen. Barnum of New York offered a substitute to the effect that notwithstanding the assaults of an unfriendly press the encampment declared its belief in the integrity of Tanner and its approval of his efforts to do all for the soldiers and sailors that the law will allow.

At the afternoon session Barnum's sub-titute was redrafted to read as follows: "That we thank Preshient Harrison for e appointment of our comrade, James anner, as commissioner of pensions, and nat, notwithstanding the assault made on im, we declare our complete confidence his integrity and our approval of his ideavors to do all that can be done under e laws for the veterans of the war; and, c nnection with him, we ask a full inestigation of his administration of the ffans of the pension bureau."

It was a lopted under suspension of the ales unanimously amid great cheering. The next important measure brought up as in relation to the pension of widows. resolution was introduced declaring that ne pension law should be so changed that ie widows of Union soldiers might marry gain and not forfeit their pensions. The ssolution was cheered by a portion of the ssemblage only. Thomas of Illinois was prosed to it and Corporal Tanner warmly ipported the bill. A heated debate ened between Tanner and Thomas of Illiois, and Thomas used very strong anguage against the corporal. A vote as finally taken and the resolution was id on the table by a big majority. This as in accordance with the recommendaon of the committee on resolutions. The esertion clause was discussed at length, at no action was taken.

The Chicago club is now on its third and last Eastern tour, and will not be seen on the home grounds for nearly threeweeks. The games of the past week between the league teams have partially remolded the percentage column. The Bostons have pushed themselves back into the lead again and are comparatively safe for some time to come. The lubberly game they played on their Western trip has been braced up into good champion base-ball. Their batter is are in good shape again and the whole term is hitting the ball with something like its old vigor. The New Yorks have taken a great tumble and their great work of the previous week has degenerated into sluggish town ball. They took something like a bracer against the Phillies, but the Boston games set them. back so far that any of their present designs on first place are entirely unwar-ranted. The Phillies are still in third place, but are being dangerously pressed by the Chicagos. Anson and the colts have not been idle, but have chased themselves up beyond the Clevelands and intofourth place. The "old man's" boast that his club was out for the pennant seems by no means so ridiculous as when it was first made. Fourth place is practically assured him, and the Quakers are but two games in the lead for the third. The trip East places the team under a temporary disadvantage, but this will be morethan counterbalanced by the long series on. the home grounds at the end of the season. The "Babies" are still slipping down the list in spite of occasional good ball playing, and none of the twigs they hang to seem sufficient to hold them up. The team wasted its wind in its too lively spurt at the beginning of the season and is now lagging along with its hands on its sides watching one after another of its competitors pass into the homestretch. The Pittsburgs were in town last week long enough to take a good series from "Old Anse" and seriously trample on his good nature. The Jenahs of last year are Jonaha still, and they pluck off a game here and there where no one elso is able to find one. The Hoosiers and the Senators still keep close guard over the re r end of the League and occasionally sally out upon some supposed usurper of their position.

Good judges of the game in Chicago-begin to believe that had Clarkson not been sold the Chicagos would now be into the pennant fight. What the team needs is one good pitcher and less in-andouters. Its batting, fielding, and baserunning are good enough.

Tim Keere, the famous pitcher of the New Yorks, has turned Benedict. He w s married a few days ago at Worcester. Mass., to Mrs Helm, a sister of Mrs. Helen Dauvray Ward.
Arlie Latham is back in his old place on the St Louis Browns, after a suspension of two weeks. Latham said that he would never again give the club management any cause for complaint, and it was on these conditions that he again enters the clubs ranks. He loses his salary during suspension. It is reported that President Brush, of indianapolis, is urging the adoption of a plan to get the Cleveland, Indianapolis, Columbus and Cincinnati clubs into a contest after the championship season closes. He proposes that each of these four clubs put up $250, and that the purse of $1,000 thus obtained shall be divided into two prizes, the first of $750 and the second of $250, to be played for by the two Association and two League clubs, the series to consist of two games & in each city by each club, to be played between Oct. 14 and 28; the winner to be awarded first prize and a pennant emblematic of the interstate championship. The Indianapolis directors have not considered the matter fully, but will likely decide in favor of it. Cincinnati is said to favor the proposition. Manager Mutrie tells a story of how, in order to avoid a game with the Giants on a wet day, to make things worse, the Hoos er groundkeeper had brought out a hose and sprinkled the base lines, pitcher s box, and home plate to such an extert as to make a game wholly impossible. Jim insisted on a game, as it was not raining. The Hoosier people hummed and hawed, and finally agreed to play at 4.50. They did play and defeated the Giants, much to Mutrie's chagrin.

The Association has another club fight on its hands. Louisville opened negotiations for the purchase of Catcher Doyle of the Cantons and had him at Louisville, when Columbus stepped in, outbid Louisville, and got the man. The row over him will be a spectacle for civiliza-

Pitcher Krock, formerly of the Chicages, has been signed by the Milwankees. Earl will catch him. The plan of equally dividing the gate receipts to future league championship games is being quietly discussed by the clubs. Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Washington, and Indian polis are said to favor such a division, and New York, Boston, and Philadelphia to oppose it. Hallman of the Philadelphia team is playing the most phenomenal game that any new man has ever played out of position in a league championship club. Tom Esterbrook, who has played in ten clubs this season and quarreled with the directors of each, now threatens to sue London, Ont., for his season's salary. Pittsburg would sell the once brilliant Dunlap if it could find a club foolish enough to buy. Dunlap cost $5,000 and will not bring $1,000. His $5,000 salary is one of his unpopular attachments.

It seems as though the double-umpire system was destined to have a thorough trial next se son. It deserves one. All other systems have failed. Arthur Clarkson, John's brother, who has been promising for three or four seasons, will not "do." Buffalo tried and has released him. Pat Tebean, another of Chicago's castoffs, is playing the most regular firstclass game of the season on Cleveland's

"Buck" Ewing is the heart and head of the New York team, and if he is ever disabled the so-called Giants will descend the championship chute faster than the Clevelands. Fat and Foxy Galvin, of the Pittsburghs, has seven children, and Mickey Welch, of the New Yorks, has a family of five. Anson's fielding average for the season is pretty nearly perfect -. 980. Anson has always had a secret longing to possess McGeachy, of the Hoosiers, and Wilmot, of Washington. Were Chi-cago not so well fixed in outfield talent it is probable that one or both of these layers would be chasing leather under the old man's captaincy. Ed Andrews will strengthen the Indianapolis club on its run-getting side, where strength is needed.
